Shared expertise approach on clients

Improve data quality and accessibility

BLAXHE unified database is the predominant feature that connects the various levels and departments of an organization. With a single source for data that is automatically collected, consolidated, organized and analyzed (largely without human input), you get accurate and reliable information to guide decisions. Our ERP systems allow you to control and set user permissions so that only the right people can access the right data anytime they need to. With our BLAXHE ERP software cloud hosted and featuring multi-device compatibility, your people can access data remotely while on the go.

Improve reporting and planning

These are a direct result of having a single source of information. You can quickly generate any kind of reports – financial, sales, operational, inventory, procurement, administrative, etc.

Improve collaboration

Another result of readily accessible data and company-spanning information is better collaboration. Our ERP platform simplifies the collaboration process among teams and employees by giving them on-demand access to data across units in the organization.

Facilitate regulatory compliance

Our ERPs facilitate processes for regulatory compliance by combining secure and validated data with built-in reports. ERP software aids in producing information required by federal, state and local regulatory bodies.

Improve visibility

The unified and centralized functional structure of our ERP application provides transparency and visibility into your business. An example is monitoring the status of your inventory levels even on a daily basis, letting you know current and incoming inventories, so you can precisely manage your working capital.

Improve supply chain management

Our ERP platform can boost your supply chain, making it more responsive through better demand forecasting, enhanced inventory management, efficient procurement, among others. A well managed supply chain opens opportunities for manufacturing innovations and helps reduce costs.

Improve customer satisfaction

Our ERP application manage numerous functional areas such as CRM, HR, financial accounting, e-commerce and others. All these are placed under the ERP umbrella to ultimately provide your customers the best experience and utmost satisfaction when dealing with your business, products and services.

Facilitate data unification

The lifeblood of modern businesses is data, and our ERP software is designed to handle, process, analyze, manage and unify data across functional units and multiple systems in an organization. An important aspect to data handling is having a central repository of information which our ERP facilitates, allowing you to control and determine who can see, edit and share data to ensure its integrity, accuracy and consistency.

Reduce time and effort

Our ERP software automates tasks and processes thereby greatly reducing time, effort and resources spent on daily, repetitive manual activities. This frees up employee time to focus on other revenue enhancing tasks. Furthermore, our ERP promotes the adoption of industry best practices on company-wide level to further bolster productivity.

Reduce costs

An organization with smoothly running units that work optimally together redounds to lower costs and improve efficiency. Our ERP software is a unified platform of applications and tools that can dramatically lower IT related expenses such as administration, support, infrastructure needs, application licensing, and training requirements since users need only to learn one system rather than numerous separate applications. Acquiring our ERP suite requires considerable budgetary outlay, but you'll find in the long run that your overall cost savings will outweigh your investment.

Facilitate standardized and simplified business

Our ERP systems are built around proven business processes and best industry practices which help you deliver effective and consistent results. Since ERP software automates most business activities, it aids in eliminating errors, facilitates planning and reporting, and bolsters synergy of processes among departments.
